She arrived pic-nic parties in the woods.

The Military.—The Citizen trunds paraded upon an early hour. They presented a magnificent appearance. Their gay plaunes and becoming unforms and rerised bayonets glanced brightly in the samlight, and their mariful bearing and excellent drill elicited the proud admiration of our citizens. They were commanded by Li ut Casseday. After a brief parade and the firing of a few de just with blank cartridges at several noints, they proceeded to on, with good fare and obliging efficers. We thank blank cartridges at several points, they proceeded to the residence of Arthur Brown, Lsq., about six miles from the city, where a whatming party of ladies and centlemen had been savited to meet them. The music of Plate's band awoke strange choes in the grand old words that shade the Lawn near the family mausion of Mr. Brown, as the ply as a regular packet.

Buards, with arms at case, advanced to their deeply shaded camping ground in a beechen grove, where the hospitable beauts of gallant fellows and the bright smiles of lovely wemen were ready to great them. After firing a salute by company with such precision that the explosion of ull their muskets was simultaneous, arms were stacked, the stars and stripes planted, fatigue dress assumed, and
